- Charity logistics is complex involving paid & volunteer staff
- Shops have their own targets but are being encouraged to collaborate
- Donations can be over door, donation banks, house clearances, commercial
- Greater visibility needed of transport and flexibility in servicing
- What if a business social network could see its patterns & transactions across space & time?
- Would managers tap into this network to share stock/transport and realise network opportunities?
- A tool to enable experimentation with space-time relationships, social networks and business collaboration

- 407 messages exchanged over 93 days
- 25% of messages sent after 17:00 and 19% after 19:00
- 4/6 managers happy to message out-of-hours (younger smartphone enabled managers more inclined). Personal friendships important factor
- More enquiries in PM, stock management AM
- Planning and/or decision making better informed – 85%
- All but 1 manager agreed that their understanding of how time was used in the business had improved
- 67% managers agreed they had collaborated more
- App can just pass on scheduling problems to other people unless the rules governing its use are not tightly controlled

Ramsay Garden
Ramsay Garden is a series of apartment buildings that standout from the many stone buildings that populate Edinburgh's Old Town. The influence of the English Art and Crafts movement is noticeable, and the buildings are full of small details with many eclectic architectural elements.

Speed, Southern, Ehnes

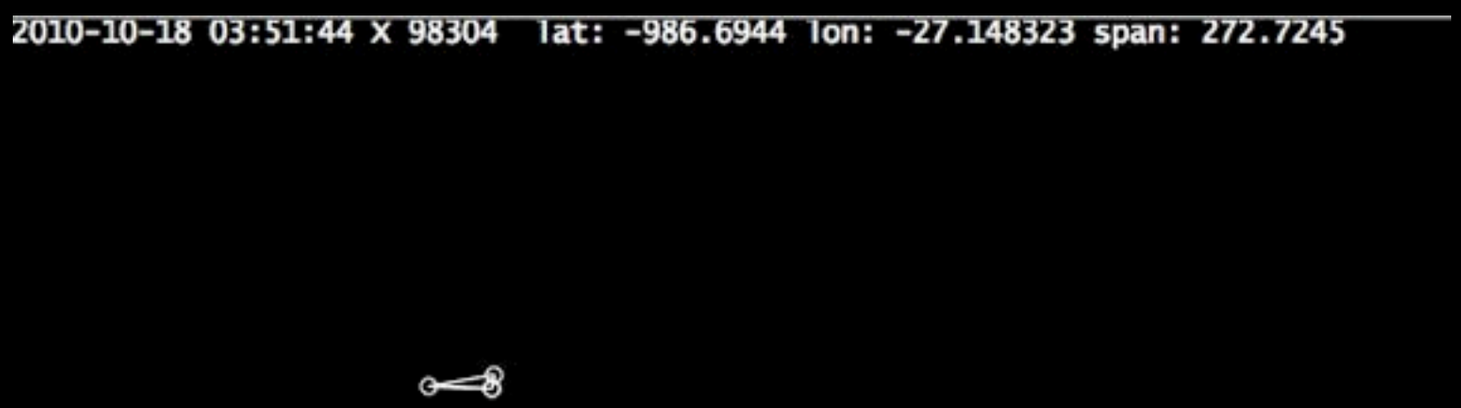
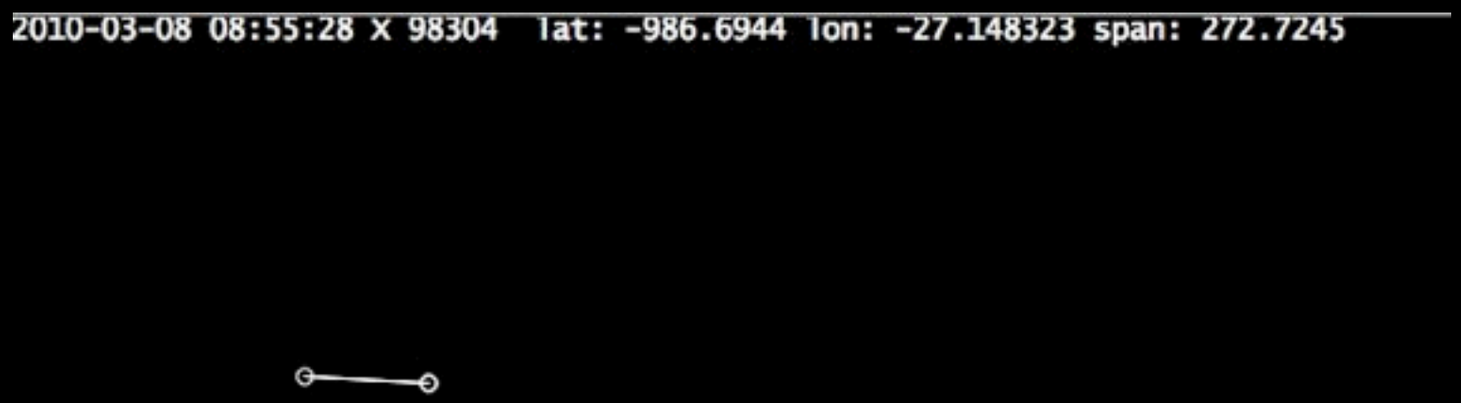
“I click on everyday. I look to see where they are when I get up. It’s almost my first mode of contact to see where they are, literally where in the world they are because Peter flies worldwide, James works throughout the county as a roadside patroller and consequently I never know where they might be…it makes me feel comfortable.”



“I feel there’s someone else there. Someone I’m close to. And I can see where they are and see how far away they are. That doesn’t matter so much somehow; it almost brings them closer to me.”



“you know he’s stuck on the side of the road and I can hear him huffing and puffing. ‘oooh this blinking rain!’ [laughs] head under the bonnet of a car somewhere. I can imagine him, you know, I think he’s brilliant with his customers.”
