

Contact ILTS

Informatics Learning Technology Service (ILTS)

You can contact ILTS by emailing a ticket to the Learning Technology queue here: LT-support@inf.ed.ac.uk. This will ensure your call is picked up by a member of the team in the most prompt manner.

The ILTS team are as follows:

- Alex Burford, Learning Technologist, full-time
- Meredith Corey, Learning Technologist, half-time on ILTS

We sit within Informatics Computing, but also work very closely with the Teaching Organisation and Directors of Teaching.

This site has static pages dedicated to the technologies used for teaching across the School, as well as a blog, for updates to services and notifications about events that you may find of interest. We encourage you to sign up to be alerted whenever new content is published using the form on the right of this page.

You can use the search bar to find content across the site or the 'categories' list to quickly navigate to blog posts about a given topic.

Service Catalogue

You can find further information on the ILTS Service catalogue here.

The site is maintained by the ILTS team for the School of Informatics.
