

Sarah Cave

Sarah Cave is a Perthshire based maker who creates hand raised silverware as well as jewellery, usually working with silver and gold and on occasion, wood and precious metal combinations. Most of Cave's designs involve contrasting metal detailing like the designs below, from gold plating to granulation. The high polished finish on some of Cave's vessels create beautiful reflections of the contents of each piece. This finish is particularly effective when paired with subtle detailing and I think the placement of the single gold plated ring on Cave's piece for 'Silver of the Stars' on the right reinforces its striking outcome.
