

Sketching with rounds and curves—week8

This ILA is all about drawing and practicing drawing skills and challenging myself. I firstly sketch circles on four A4 paper with the helpline of rectangle shape or cuboids. I learned to show different type of circle in and get myself familiar with this technique. I like sketching with this drawing methods because it is the best way for designers to draw in the most accurate way by freehand.

then I also explore this technique with some other drawings such as presenting surface like fabric or shapes like mountains using curves. This development helps with the further exercise later.
