

Vessels and cutlery set

These are my vessel that I made using the revolve and rail revolve commands which I used the curve tool and the star tool. I then used the offset command to close the line drawing so that the vessels could have volume. I really enjoyed creating these shapes as the vessels could be used for a number of things for example, a vase, bowl for fruit or to hold things in.

These are my cutlery set that I was designing to practice with. I found the spoon easy to design using the commands that I have learned so far in the class. The knife and fork was what I struggled with as when I tried to join the handle and edges there would be a place where they weren't joined. I used the naked edges command to check and there was naked edges in between the handle and top part of the cutlery.
