

Rabab Tamish

Assistant professor at the Faculty of Education- Bethlehem University (Palestine). In the last decade she has been engaged in several research projects that aim at promoting the quality of child learning in formal and informal settings. In addition, she has provided several consultancy services to national, regional and international organizations on the integration of critical pedagogies within their working settings.