"No Differences: Debating Demographic Expertise in U.S. Marriage Equality Cases"

☐ Wednesday, June 11th | ☐ 4:00pm

☐ Edinburgh Futures Institute, University of Edinburgh

The demography of sexuality has become a battleground in debates over LGBTQ civil rights. Experts and activists on all sides turn to demographic knowledge to make claims about LGBTQ people and the worthiness of their political claims, and data collection itself has become a site of intense political contestation. This talk draws on evidence from three pivotal same-sex marriage cases at the United States Supreme Court on the path to federal marriage equality to analyze the specific ways that population counting and other types of demographic evidence are mobilized in the legal arena.

Speaker: Dr Jamie Budnick (Assistant Professor, Sociology, Cornell University)

Hosted by: The Gender + Sexuality Data Lab and GENDER.ED

Format: Public talk, all welcome

Registration: Free tickets available

Upcoming June 2025 Events

“Music and words from the trans imaginary: an evening with CN Lester”

☐ Wednesday, June 25th | ☐ 7:00pm-9:00pm

☐ Reid Lecture Theatre on Bristo Square

QUEER.ED Event: An evening with CN Lester, a multi-genre musician (classical singer, improviser, composer, alternative piano-based singer-songwriter) and author of the critically acclaimed “Trans Like Me.” CN is also the founder and artistic director of the groundbreaking arts event “Transpose” at the Barbican.

Programme: CN will perform selections of their soulful, melodic, piano-based music on the Reid Concert Hall's Steinway piano, plus deliver a reading of their recent reflections on the current state of life for trans people in the U.K.

About the programme: Rejects dehumanising narratives about trans people disseminated by media and anti-trans movement. Instead, CN's art offers a glimpse into the trans imaginary—a space where trans people create their own stories, shape their own narratives, and define their own lives, inspired by energy, solidarity, hope, and love.

Tickets: <https://CNLester.eventbrite.com>

Sponsored by: QUEER.ED, UCU Edinburgh, Staff Pride Network, Lighthouse Bookshop, Edinburgh College of Art, School of Philosophy Psychology & Language Sciences, School of Social & Political Science, School of History Classics & Archaeology

Music and words from the trans imaginary: an evening with CN Lester

□ Wednesday, June 25th | □ 7:00pm-9:00pm

□ Reid Lecture Theatre on Bristo Square

CN Lester is a multi-genre musician: a classical singer, improviser/deviser, composer, and alternative piano-based singer-songwriter. They are also the author of the critically acclaimed Trans Like Me, and the founder and artistic director of the groundbreaking arts event Transpose at the Barbican.

For this evening, CN will perform selections of their soulful, melodic, piano-based music, brought to life by the sumptuous sound of the Reid Concert Hall's Steinway piano. CN will also deliver a reading of their recent reflections on the current state of life for trans people in the U.K.

Part of a programme of trans-centred events that rejects dehumanising narratives about trans people and instead offers a glimpse into the trans imaginary—a space where trans people create their own stories, shape their own narratives, and define their own lives, inspired by energy, solidarity, hope, and love.

“Rainbow Trap” Book Launch with Kevin

Guyan

📅 Thursday, July 3rd | 🕒 7:00pm

📍 Lighthouse Bookstore (and online)

Rainbow Trap reveals how the fight for LGBTQ equalities in the UK is shaped – and constrained – by the classifications we encounter every day. Edinburgh launch for local author and researcher Dr Kevin Guyan, hosted by Gemma Milne!

Looking across six systems – the police and the recording of hate crimes; dating apps and digital desire; outness in the film and television industry; borders and LGBTQ asylum seekers; health and fitness activities; and DEI initiatives in the workplace – Rainbow Trap documents how inclusive interventions have attempted to bring historically marginalized communities out of the shadows.

“We Have Always Been Here. And We Always Will Be” Project

Some of our network members are working to bring this impactful project to Engineering spaces around the university. This exhibition has been making rounds at other schools and there's interest in providing more visibility within our community.

Know of Other Events?

This list represents what we've heard about so far, but we know there's always more happening! If you know of other Pride events or activities taking place this month that our members might be interested in, please let us know and we'll share them with the network.

Let's make this Pride Month one to remember! ☐

LGBTQ+ History Month 2025

Welcome colleagues to our round-up of events happening throughout LGBTQ+ History month in 2025. This year the theme is Activism! Events have been arranged by colleagues and groups across the University, some in collaboration with SPN, some independently.

Note: Additional events will be added as details become available. Check back regularly for updates.

Water Trouble: Queer Bodies and Fluidity in the Mediterranean

Wednesday 5 February

13:00-14:00

Seminar room, 2 Hope Park Square, Edinburgh, EH8 9NW

Organised by Dr Alice Parrinello

In recent years, and especially since the arrival on Italian shores in 1991 of the Vlora cargo ship, the Mediterranean has been constructed as a border. This view has fostered necropolitical policies, which create a strict divide between Central Europe and the Global South and reclaim an impossible ownership of the Mediterranean. Simultaneously, queer Italian films promote a different view of the Mediterranean, seeing it as a place of resistance and reclamation. The talk will investigate the films Il padre d'Italia (2017) by Fabio Mollo, La dea fortuna (2019) by Ferzan Özpetek, Misericordia (2023) by Emma Dante, arguing that they promote a porous and queer futurity from Mediterranean waters (Neimanis 2017).

'We have always been here. And we always will be' Exhibition

On display in Paterson's land social space lower ground floor (Moray House) from the 14-28 February pay a visit to the exhibition. You can find details of the guided tour taking place on the 25 February further down this page.

A quote from Ash Scholz, one of the creators: "This exhibition is by no means exhaustive. It provides some glimpses into the incredible work of queer student activists and community members throughout a time of significant repression and discriminatory laws and policies. Without the work of student activists in the past, these successes would have not been possible at all, and we found a sense of intergenerational solidarity with the queer students that came before us through our research. The exhibition wants to take up space for an underrepresented community, with queer students being able to manifest their belonging at the University through having a visual reminder of their historical presence. Thank you to my amazing volunteer group, and all the support I have received from the School, without whom this would have not been possible!"

Exploring LGBT+ Resources in Lothian Health Services Archive

16:10-17:00, Centre for Research Collections Teaching Room 2, Main Library 6th floor (Central Area)

Are you interested in finding out more about support services for LGBT+ people in the mid-twentieth century? In this session, you will discover how these services were initiated and developed, and how they supported the LGBT+ community, especially during periods of change and crisis. We will focus mostly on the archive of the Lothian Gay and Lesbian Switchboard (LGLS), but will also highlight sources on LGBT+ activism during the HIV crisis of the 1980s and 1990s.

LGLS was the UK's first gay helpline and Scotland's first gay charity, and it was a key source of support to LGBT+ people across Scotland and the UK. They campaigned and advised on sexual health, mental health, and equality issues, as well as providing listening and befriending services to people about issues or difficulties relating to their sexuality, as well as passing on details of gay-friendly organisations, counselling professionals, and sexual health advice.

This session will introduce you to items from this fascinating collection, and let you know how LHSA sources on LGBT+ activism can help with research towards your dissertation. We will also cover how to access archive collections for yourself, and share some hints and tips for first-time archive researchers. You can find out more about the Lothian Health Services Archive collections from our website.

Open to staff and students.

Edinburgh Historic Walks

Wednesday 26th February, 12.30pm, King's Buildings House

Our February theme is Activism, and in honour of LGBT+ History Month, we'll be discussing the role of the student union in fighting for same-sex marriage. We'll then discuss other forms of activism, including links to abolitionism at King's Buildings, before taking the scenic route up to the Royal Observatory, where we'll discuss the suffragette bombing of 1913.

Join us on Wednesday 26th February to learn about Edinburgh University's ties to activism and fights for justice. We'll be meeting outside King's Buildings House at 12.30, and finishing at 1-1.15pm at the Royal Observatory.

Investigating How Societal Narratives and Social Networks Shape LGBTQ+ Youth Suicide Risk

Wednesday 26th February 4-5pm,

As part of the Queer Minds Scotland Network (a collaboration between Glasgow Caledonian University and the University of Edinburgh) we are beginning an online LGBTQ+ mental health and wellbeing research seminar series. This is beginning this month with a talk from the brilliant Dr Kirsty Clark reflecting on LGBTQ+ youth suicide drawing from research projects in the US (and in particular the southern states) and Scotland. Dr. Kirsty Clark will share research from both the United States and Scotland examining how societal narratives and social networks can shape suicide risk among LGBTQ+ youth. She will discuss how the portrayal of LGBTQ+ youth suicide in media, education, and even research may contribute to risk. Dr. Clark will highlight perspectives from LGBTQ+ individuals who have survived suicide attempts and present new findings on how being exposed to the suicidal thoughts and behaviors of others may impact LGBTQ+ youth. This talk will encourage discussion on how we can reshape societal messages and strengthen support networks to promote resilience and well-being among LGBTQ+ youth.

The Future of Gender and Sexuality Data: Perils and Possibilities

Thursday 27 February at the Edinburgh Futures Institute.

To mark the launch of the University of Edinburgh's Gender + Sexuality Data Lab, join us for a panel discussion: 'The Future of Gender and Sexuality Data: Perils and Possibilities' on Thursday 27 February at the Edinburgh Futures Institute.

From the laws that shape our rights to the algorithms that predict our behaviours, gender and sexuality data is everywhere – but who decides what gets counted and why?

The panel will explore how gender and sexuality data is collected, analysed and used – in policy and law, in technology and AI, and in our everyday interactions with organisations and institutions. The panel includes:

- Sharon Cowan (chair): Professor of Feminist and Queer Legal Studies, University of Edinburgh
- Reema Vadoliya: data professional, storyteller and advocate for inclusion in data
- Vic Valentine: Scottish Trans Manager, Equality Network
- Matthew J. Cull: author of What Gender Should Be (Bloomsbury Academic, 2024)

How does our approach to data enable and constrain people's opportunities in day-to-day life? What are the wider effects of the datafication of identity characteristics – particularly for communities minoritised due to sexual orientation, gender identity, age, race, class and/or disability?

What lies ahead in 2025? Will changes to the design of data categories make decisions fairer for everyone or are we trapped in classification systems that are beyond repair? Where the only solution left is to rip it all up and start again?

The panel event will be followed by a networking reception.

The Future of Gender and Sexuality Data: Perils and Possibilities | Thurs 27 Feb, 3pm | Edinburgh Futures Institute | Open to all | Register here

The Love Hub on the Road: Edinburgh Edition

A series of 6 free workshops/events taking place in Edinburgh on 27 and 28th February, as part of a collaboration between the Centre for Biomedicine, Self and Society and The Love Tank.

The workshops focus in on key issues that we've been grappling with – as researchers, and as community organisations/activists and we hope will create a safe and creative space to explore and reflect on some of these issues. These include but are not limited to HIV PrEP equity, inclusive abortion, DOXY-PEP/sexual health, disability justice and activism. They all take place in Edinburgh – at the Pleasance and at Lighthouse Bookshop. And we're hoping to make a few available online: the PrEP Equity and Spoken word events will be streamed; disability justice workshop will be hybrid and interactive).

Please consider this an invitation to join some (or all!) of our events and to share widely with those you work and collaborate with.

Join/subscribe/unsubscribe the SPN mailing List (mlist – staffpridenetworkmembers)

Since the Universities mlist system isn't the easiest to navigate it requires a page:

To access the list page for SPN members please click below but note the likely error and how to get around before clicking:

<https://mlist.is.ed.ac.uk/lists/info/staffpridenetworkmembers>

You will need to first log in via ease which should be straightforward the issue comes if you get this mysterious error shown above.

The error is that mlist site isn't logged in as it needs you to click the University Login button on the top right. This should then finally let you through to the staffpridenetworkmembers list page and click the option to subscribe / unsubscribe and generally manage your preferences.
